

Task 1 - New Business Ideas

I am currently working to improve my programming skills in the Python language by taking the HyperionDev Software Engineering bootcamp. Python is one of the most popular languages and is one of the most in-demand skills in the tech industry. According to technojobs.co.uk, Python is the most popular and widely used programming language in the world. By completing this bootcamp I will be able to apply for a wide range of job opportunities, including new self-employment opportunities and contracts. For example, I have numerous freelance roles on Indeed that I would be able to apply for, like this one for a Django Developer. Django is a web application framework that we cover towards the end of the bootcamp.

As well as applying for freelance roles, this bootcamp will enable me to pursue new self-employment opportunities. For example, I could start a new business in which I offer web development services for small businesses. I will be able to build these websites using the skills I acquire on this bootcamp, with the backend built using Python and Django. The frontend could be built using Django templates and/or using my HTML/CSS/JavaScript skills. Another area I could potentially pursue is online tutoring. As a former teacher, I have a passion for education. I could build an app that provides students with revision resources to help them prepare for their GCSEs or A-Levels.

Build Your Brand I: Thinking about a job search

If you're self-employed:

Input the contact details of companies and the business contacts of places you would pitch your services or products to. Also, please fill in the section right at the end of the form.

If you are ready to apply for jobs:

You won't actually be applying in this task, but we would like you to think about the sort of roles you might like to apply for and the sort of companies you might want to work for. Find 2 junior tech roles currently being advertised, ensuring you consider large and small companies as well as tech startups. For each of these, identify the recruiting/hiring managers (possibly the Talent or HR people at each company). Capture the details of each of the 2 roles and contacts in this form. If any of your URLs are greater than 255 characters, shorten them by using bitly.com and paste the shortened version into the form.

If you're not ready to apply for jobs yet or may even be currently employed and not looking for a new role right now:

We still require you to identify relevant contacts and get into practice should you eventually look for a new role. However, we will NOT reach out to these employers on your behalf. Please also fill in the contact at your current company who would be involved in a change to tech.
